SECOND ANNUAL EARTH DAY FESTIVAL

A joyful neighborhood gathering celebrating sustainability and community connection.

APRIL 19, 2026 | 12-4 PM

Building on the success of last year's event, the festival brings together neighbors, families, and local businesses for a day of community stewardship, hands-on workshops, local food and beverages, music, art, family-friendly fun, and opportunities to learn about urban agriculture and plug in to your community!

The Earth Day Festival draws hundreds of neighbors from the Ivy Hill, Grand Lake, and greater Oakland communities. The festival is not only a celebration of Earth Day—it's also an opportunity to strengthen the relationships that make local neighborhoods thrive.

This year's event will help raise funds that sustain OUFP's gardens and programs throughout the year.

ABOUT OUFP

www.oufp.org

The Oakland Urban Farming Project (OUFP) was born in 2021, rooted in the collective efforts of a few friends in the Ivy Hill neighborhood of Oakland, California.

Today, OUFP—a volunteer collective of neighbors, friends, and community members—stewards two community gardens and free produce pantries in Ivy Hill, where fresh fruits and vegetables are freely available to anyone who visits. Our budding food forest not only provides fresh produce but also serves as an educational hub, teaching about gardening, regenerative agriculture, and environmental stewardship.

We believe that when people have access to living soil and nourishing plants, communities become more resilient.

YOUR IMPACT

Support from local businesses directly fuels OUFP's ability to serve the Oakland community. Funds raised through events and sponsorships help us:

- Grow fresh food for our community.
- Transform blighted spaces into usable green spaces, beautifying our neighborhoods.
- Maintain and expand community gardens and create welcoming public spaces.
- Purchase seeds, plants, soil, tools, and equipment to keep the gardens thriving.
- Host regular volunteer days.
- Create opportunities for neighbors to work together, learn new skills, and connect.

Green spaces like the Ivy Hill Gravity Garden provide safe, creative environments where residents can gather, relax, and reconnect with nature. Every dollar contributed stays in the neighborhood and helps us in cultivating a healthier, more vibrant Oakland!

JOIN US: PARTNER WITH OUFP

Local businesses are essential to the fabric of our neighborhoods—and partnering with OUFP is a meaningful way to invest in the community that supports you.

By sponsoring our Earth Day Festival, your business will:

- Be recognized as a community ally.
- Demonstrate your commitment to sustainability, food access, and neighborhood well-being.
- Gain visibility with local residents.
- Inspire engagement and build authentic connections.
- Invest in the neighborhood ecosystem.

When businesses help strengthen the community, the community responds in kind.

We invite you to join us in celebrating Earth Day and supporting the work of the Oakland Urban Farming Project.
